Applicant to complete

Formal Research Training

Please list in the table below all the formal research training you have received to date.

Formal research training can include undertaking a research project that was an assessable component of a degree, completing a research training subject, such as statistics or other research methods training that was undertaken as part of a formal course of study. Duration should be indicated in months, rather than semesters or similar, as the length of academic periods varies between institutions. If the relevant training was undertaken part-time indicate the duration as full-time equivalence e.g. 6 months part-time = 3 months full time.

Example only - Masters of Economics	Statistical analysis for economists	This was a subject which included statistical training and a small assessable project	6 months

Section 3 – Research Project Budget

Applicant to complete in consultation with Primary Advisor

Lack of anticipated funding can have serious consequences for a project and candidature.

Although not all expenses can be anticipated at this stage, major expenses should be identified and costed approximately to ensure that a secured source of funding can be identified. This funding cannot come from the candidate (i.e., self-funding project costs) and must be guaranteed to be available at the commencement of the project work and for the anticipated duration of the project. The only permitted exception to this rule (which requires the written approval of the Dean, Graduate Research) occurs when the candidate is undertaking the project under the aegis of their employment external to JCU.

Items should be indicated to the nearest $500 AUD.

Items such as conference attendance, thesis preparation or access to facilities or consumables for which the College is normally responsible do not need to be included here.

All costs are to be in Australian Dollars.

Attach additional pages if required.

Equipment Items that will cost a total of $1000 or more,
Travel e.g. Travel to and from study sites, accommodation,
Consumables Items that cost less than $1000,
Other e.g. Specialist training, medical costs for travel, fieldwork costs,

Section 4 – Off-campus candidates (External Study only)

Applicant to complete in consultation with proposed Primary Advisor or entire Advisory Panel if they not intending to be in regular attendance at a campus of JCU.

Off-campus study applies to candidates who are not intending to be in regular attendance at a JCU campus.¹

Off-campus study does not include periods away from campus to undertake field work, when the remaining time will be spent in regular attendance at a campus.

Candidates studying in external mode are required to attend a JCU campus (which could include the Singapore campus) for at least 5 days a year as required to complete the degree requirements, such as workshops and milestones.

Candidates wishing to be awarded a JCU-funded scholarship will not normally be permitted to study externally.

Candidates wishing to study externally must be able to provide sufficient justification for their request and demonstrate how they will be adequately supported and be able to meet the degree requirements.

Candidates studying externally are required to have reliable and regular internet access and must check their JCU student email account frequently.

Approval to study externally is not granted automatically and must be agreed to by the Advisory Panel and approved by the Dean, Graduate Research

Please answer all the questions below:

Question 1 – Why you are seeking to study off-campus / externally?¹

Question 2 – How often and by which means of communication will maintain contact with your Advisory Panel?

Question 3 – What support services will you have access to in your off-campus location (e.g. access to on-site supervision, field sites and/or equipment, advisor or mentor, University library etc)?

Comments / additional information – Please provide any comments or additional information in relation to your request to study externally.
