

Lynn Kratcha Memorial Rural Bursary 2017 Description of Tasks for Applicants

Applications are now called for the Lynn Kratcha Memorial Rural Bursary. Eligible students are those currently in year 2 of the MBBS programme.

The bursary consists of a four-week rural placement in North America. The bursary will include support for travel and accommodation, and can be undertaken as the 4-week, Year 2 rural placement.

If funding allows there may be more than one international bursary awarded under these rules. Winners must be prepared to provide an oral and written report on their return.

There are three components to the bursary, each of which contributes to the final mark:

- a written task – Film review
- an interview
- an oral presentation

The written task will be used to determine a small number of "finalists", who will be invited to proceed to the next two stages.

Stage 1 – the written task

The editor of a medical students' journal has asked for reviews of the documentary Fantome Island: In 1945 seven year-old Joe Eggmolesse was diagnosed with leprosy. He was taken from his family under police escort and transported by rail and sea over a thousand kilometres to Fantome Island where he was incarcerated for the next ten years.

The editor has requested the following review: With reference to the documentary Fantome Island:

- Give a brief description of the documentary Fantome Island.
- Describe the approach to health care for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population in 1945 and compare to current health care.
- The review should reflect your views about the documentary and its relevance to health education.
- Students will be judged on presentation, clarity and coherence of arguments, originality, writing style and its suitability for the book review genre.
- Include referencing to support your statements where required.
- Word Limit: 1000 words

Due by Noon on Monday, 24th July 2017

Submitted to LearnJCU/ Medicine Course Site/Prizes and Scholarships/Lynn Kratcha Memorial Rural Bursary;

AND

To Scholarships:

Submit your application details here

<https://www.jcu.edu.au/scholarships-@-jcu/online-application/coursework-scholarship-application>

NOTE: The DVD for this documentary is available at the JCU library. It may also be viewed online at <https://vimeo.com/ondemand/fantomeisland2> for a small cost.

Stage 2 – the interview and oral presentation

Successful "finalists" will be invited to go onto Stage 2 of the process which will be held in August 2017. The dates for interviews and the presentation evening are to be advised.

Interview:

The interview will last for approximately 10 minutes. It will be conducted by an interview panel of at least three members, including a previous recipient of the bursary.

Students will be judged on communication skills, interview preparedness, motivation for entering and suitability as a representative of the College of Medicine and Dentistry.

Oral Presentation:

Students will be asked to prepare a 5-7 minute oral presentation to be delivered at the Lynn Kratcha Memorial Rural Bursary presentation night at the School. This presentation should be designed as a talk that could be delivered to a community group in North Dakota, USA about an aspect of rural health in Australia. Each student will have up to 2 minutes to answer questions from the audience.

Students will be judged on the appropriateness of the talk for a North American audience and quality of content and delivery. Students may support their talk with the usual range of AV materials.

The marking panel will consist of staff members from Medicine, previous Lynn Kratcha Memorial Rural Bursary winner/s and an invited guest.

Inquiries to: Prof Tarun Sen Gupta
Email: medexams@jcu.edu.au