Ready today for tomorrow

Take on the important and challenging work of balancing profit, policy, and conservation with the Bachelor of Business and Environmental Science. Study the effects of human behaviour on climate and learn to lead sustainable business practices.

Integrate environmental science with the ability to create sustainable and competitive business practices. Focus on sustainability principles in tropical contexts in our internationally renowned centres of tropical environmental science.

Learn how to critically appraise environmental practices in international, regional, and local organisations. Support your research with genuine fieldwork and build a strong industry network through JCU’s direct links to peak industry bodies.
“A Business and Environmental Science degree is rarely offered, and I am glad James Cook University has this course. This degree is a perfect blend of understanding environmentally-related issues and business principles. Under the close guidance of our lecturers and technicians, I’ve learnt research techniques and business skills.”

Vera Lynn Van Kessel
BACHELOR OF BUSINESS AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE
Career Opportunities

JCU Business and Environmental Science graduates have highly respected qualifications in sustainable, successful, and vitally important business practices.

Graduates pursue a range of business careers, including in environmental policy, marine resource management, and aquaculture.

You could find employment as an environmental advisor, consultant, or academic in both private and public sectors.

“Public awareness of environmental issues is at an all-time high, and the job market internationally is mirroring this, with opportunities increasing every year. In this degree, students develop the skills to deal with complex environmental science concepts and common challenges. Graduates will have an edge in the job market, as they can demonstrate they understand not only fundamental business principles, but also how to apply these alongside the rigorous environmental standards that consumers expect in today’s commercial climate.”

Dr Neil Hutchinson
SENIOR LECTURER, ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE
