

Volunteers Group Personal Accident Insurance | General Information

Am I covered?

James Cook University (JCU) carries a group personal accident policy which covers authorised volunteers for accident only whilst on campus and/or engaged in voluntary work on behalf of the University, including the necessary direct travel to and from such activities.

The policy provides benefits for death, disability, non-Medicare medical expenses and some loss of wages arising from accidental bodily injury. Claims must be certified as necessary by a legally certified medical practitioner.

Due to legislation under the Health Insurance Act (Cth) 1973, no benefit is payable for items that are claimable in any way through Medicare, including any Medicare gap.

This policy provides limited cover so should not be seen as a substitute for private health cover and/or accident/life insurance.

Personal Accident Insurance does not apply where other compensations, such as Medicare, Private Health Insurance, Workers Compensation, etc. is claimable.

Benefits/limits of cover will reduce from the age of 75.
