'Mobile Learn Subject at a Glance' Report

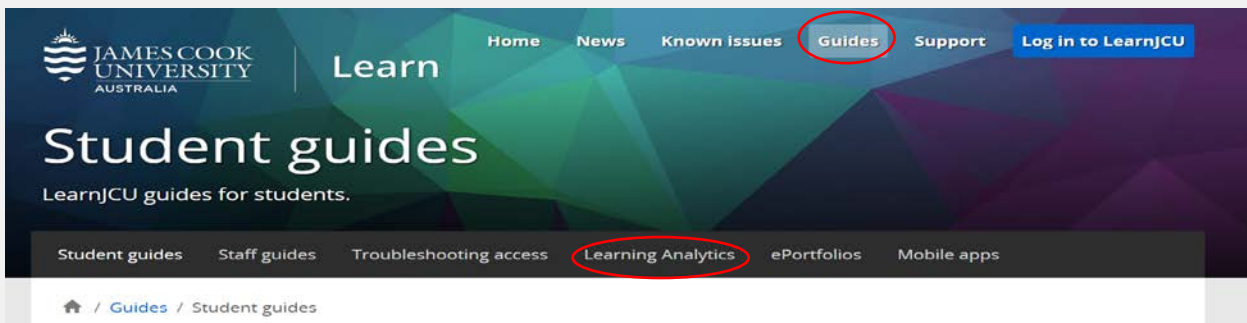

What can this report do for me?

- This report provides information about how students are using mobile devices to access and interact with the LearnJCU site of a particular subject. It compares Mobile Learn Users with non-Mobile Learn Users for LearnJCU subject site accesses, minutes, interactions and grade.
- This can be useful when designing the materials and activities that are provided on the LearnJCU site. For instance, if students are primarily using a LearnJCU site with mobile devices, it would be worthwhile to design and implement mobile friendly materials and activities.
