Graduate Opportunities

Pharmacists supply, dispense and manufacture medicines and pharmaceutical products in hospitals and community pharmacies, and advise on their appropriate use. They also conduct research into the formulation, production, storage, quality control and distribution of medicines and pharmaceutical products.

Pharmacy is a rewarding career for those interested in working as part a multidisciplinary team of medical staff and allied health professionals that seek to provide optimal care for patients and carers.

Pharmacists are registered with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA). To practice as a Pharmacist in Australia you must be registered with the Pharmacy Board of Australia and keep meeting the obligations of the profession. As of July 2022 there were circa 35,300 pharmacists registered with the Pharmacy Board which comprises approximately 4.1% of all health practitioners registered in Australia recording 0.3% growth over the previous year. Employability Skills and Workplace Experience

Your course will equip you with the professional knowledge, skills and professional placement opportunities to help you meet the requirements of registration as a pharmacist. However, depending on the type of work you are thinking of, there are many experiences you can seek parallel to your course to prepare yourself for your career.

A part-time or casual job as a Pharmacy Assistant is by far the best experience and exposure to the industry and offers both mentorship and helps reinforce your learning in the workplace. You can gain both industry experience and employability skills and possibly secure future employment too as many employers use this as a way to observe you as a possible future employee.

The Student Mentor Program can provide evidence of soft skill development, communication skills, empathy and a caring nature which are all relevant skills needed for your future profession. You could take it a step further by competing for the Pharmacy Student of the Year \(PSOTY\).

To develop your commercial awareness you could participate in the National Student Business Plan Competition.

For networking, public speaking, project management or leadership skills you may like to consider joining and taking up administrative functions in the Pharmacy Students Association (JCUPSA Student Association's).

To boost your enterprising thinking and business knowledge check LinkedIn Learning e.g. Guy Kawasaki on Entrepreneurship; Small Business Secrets; Entrepreneurship Foundations; Design Thinking: Venture Design; Become an Entrepreneur Inside a Company etc.

These courses are available free of charge if you log in to LinkedIn Learning through the JCU Library's website - Learning tab using your JCU Student ID login. You will be able to display any completed courses on your LinkedIn profile for future employers to see.

Volunteer Work

Volunteering is a great way to form professional networks, develop work skills and stand out from the crowd. Many employers value evidence of volunteer work.

Volunteering enables students to experience different work environments plus demonstrate their values and the causes they care about. Students are recommended to consider:

- Volunteering for opportunities presented through their degree
- Becoming a JCU Student Mentor
- Becoming involved in community organisations, particularly in areas related to health.

Graduate Positions vs Graduate Programs

Large pharmaceutical companies recruit graduates usually once a year for a structured training program.

Check out Prosple and Grad Connection.

Tap into Glassdoor and Whirlpool Forum to find out about the recruitment processes.

Smaller organisations including startups may have openings at any stage and may also be responsive to “speculative applications” (sending in a resume and cover letter that shows how well your interests, skills, experience and knowledge fit with the company’s agenda and values).

Professional Associations

You can demonstrate your commitment to the profession, enrich your education (through conferences, PD and career development courses) and enhance your job search through networking events within a free or discounted student membership of a professional organisation:
