JCU Employability Webinar Series

Celebrating
50
YEARS
1970 - 2020

STUDY PERIOD 2

Week 2

TUESDAY 4 AUGUST
10.00am - 10.50am

The Employability Edge

Identify the steps to maximise your chances of graduate employment

In an increasingly competitive job market, you want to stand out to employers. You want to prove to them that you have developed the skills, experiences, and character traits they are seeking from new recruits. Learn how to personalise a plan to achieve that employability edge and be effective from your very first day on the job.

Week 3

TUESDAY 11 AUGUST
10.00am - 10.50am

Job Skills for Now and the Future

Identify the skills sought by employers now and into the future

Don't be left behind! Society and workplaces are constantly evolving in the fast-paced world of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, so staying ahead of the curve is important for graduate as well as future employment. We will examine the key skills sought by employers now and into the future and develop a plan to future proof your career through your transferable skills.

Week 4

TUESDAY 18 AUGUST
10.00am - 10.50am

Writing Winning Graduate Job Applications

Graduate applications can often be a daunting process for students, but we are here to help. This workshop will explain how you can capture the attention of recruiters and showcase yourself as the preferred candidate for any position. You will learn about the recruitment process, how to avoid common pitfalls and how to prepare a professional targeted written application.

It is strongly recommended you bring your current or draft resume - either printed or on your laptop, to this session.

Week 5

TUESDAY 25 AUGUST
10.00am - 10.50am

Mastering Interviews and the Pitch

Performing confidently in interviews opens the door to your future career progression. Learn how to overcome your nerves, pitch your skills and abilities, confidently respond to the interview questions and convince the recruiters that you are the best fit for the position. Be prepared for success.
