Your rights

Education Services for Overseas Students Act

As a provider of education services to international students in Australia, JCU is required to comply with the Education Services for Overseas Students Act (ESOS Act) and the National Code of Practice for Registration Authorities and Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students (The National Code). The ESOS legislation and National Code specify minimum standards for the delivery of courses to students in Australia studying on a student visa, and regulate what information must be given to existing and prospective international students, what support must be provided to existing students, what records are kept, and what information is to be given to government agencies about international students.

JCU's tuition fee policy

The policy sets out students' obligations and rights in relation to tuition fees for overseas students. The policy also sets out the circumstances in which a student is entitled to a refund as required under the ESOS Act.

The Tuition Protection Service

The Tuition Protection Service (TPS) is a placement and refund service for international students studying on a student visa, which also operates under the ESOS Act. The TPS replaces the Tuition Assurance Scheme and the ESOS Assurance Fund. On the rare occasion that a provider is unable to deliver a course an international student has paid for – and does not meet their legal obligations to make alternative course replacements or provide a refund – the TPS will assist students to find an alternative place or, if this is not possible, provide a refund of any unspent tuition fees.

Deferral, temporary suspension or cancellation of enrolment

The ESOS National Code and student visa conditions contain restrictions on when students, or JCU, can defer, suspend or cancel an enrolment. Students may only defer commencement of studies or take a leave of absence once they have commenced when there are compassionate or compelling reasons for doing so. A compassionate or compelling reason is something beyond an individual's control and which has, or will have, an impact on their academic progress or wellbeing. The University may suspend a student temporarily, enforcing a break from study, in certain circumstances.

Working as a student

Under Australian immigration regulations, students on a student visa may work up to 40 hours per fortnight during university teaching periods and without restriction during university vacations. Permission to work in Australia will be automatically included when you are granted your student visa. For further information about student visas contact the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP): border.gov.au.

The JCU Careers and Employment Service can provide information on part-time and casual employment and manage an online job vacancy listing for students.
