Why choose pharmacy?

DIVERSITY OF EXPERIENCES
There are many career opportunities besides working in a retail community pharmacy store. You could work in hospital pharmacy, as a cancer specialist, in a Defence Force pharmacy, visit patients at home or in aged care facilities, work in medicine development and research or health service management, and much more.

BE HANDS-ON WITH HELPING PEOPLE
Pharmacists are on the front line of health care. They are also important members of the healthcare team, working with doctors, nurses and other health professionals to assist in improving the health and wellbeing of people.

BE IN-DEMAND
JCU pharmacy graduates are in demand for their strong level of skills. JCU Pharmacy is ranked as the number one university in Queensland for full-time graduate employment for pharmacists (QILT Graduate Outcomes Survey 2017 - 2019).

ENJOY A CAREER THAT HELPS EXPAND YOUR HORIZONS
JCU Pharmacy graduates are well equipped with the skills to make a difference and work in any setting including regional, rural, remote, and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Island communities. Graduates may also discover opportunities to support humanitarian activities around the globe with Defence agencies and the World Health Organisation.

GAIN TRANSFERRABLE SKILLS
Pharmacy is a fantastic foundational degree that provides sound chemistry and biology underpinnings. You will also develop a strategic mindset that prepares you well for the role of health service manager.

HONE YOUR COMMUNICATION SKILLS
Unlike what many people would expect, sometimes pharmacy can involve very little dispensing of medicines and more of an educational and instructional role. For example, hospital pharmacists often find themselves educating their patients about the use of medicines to empower them to manage their condition at home.
“JCU is leagues above in terms of placement hours, we get lots of experience. On the rural placement I have been able to see and visit the most amazing places. You work during the day but you get to enjoy different locations after hours and on weekends. It has been really fantastic!”

BACHELOR OF PHARMACY
Career Opportunities

You will have a range of exciting career opportunities including hospital and community pharmacy, pharmacy practice management, government health services and regulatory bodies, defence force and the pharmaceutical industries.

Be equipped with the skills to work in any setting, ranging from metropolitan cities to the outback and the remotest of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

With further study, you could pursue a career in clinical research and university teaching or even work overseas.

“JCU Pharmacy has produced today’s brightest pharmacy minds and most influential leaders, but you won’t just find our graduates leading national debate, policy development or running very senior health service portfolios. They are also making a big difference for patients. This is partly because we attract passionate and clever students and partly because we have great educators who are able to teach in small groups and have the experience to apply theory to authentic pharmacy problems. That’s what makes it so popular with our students and one of the best pharmacy programs in the country. Combined with our applied research focus, our graduates are well rounded and highly sought after. Come to JCU Pharmacy and you will get a great pharmacy education and be ready to take your place in the pharmacy profession.”
