

A World of Opportunities

The Bachelor of Social Sciences at James Cook University

MAJORS

Asia Pacific Governance & Development

- ▶ Prepare for a career in government, community planning and sustainable development.
- ▶ Combine subjects in Anthropology, Political Science, Geography and Social Welfare.
- ▶ Equip yourself to work in the Asia-Pacific region.

Environment & Heritage

- ▶ Build a career in the cultural and natural heritage industries by combining subjects in archaeology, anthropology and environmental studies.
- ▶ Explore relationships between environmental issues and societies in the tropics.
- ▶ Build your knowledge of heritage management and sustainability issues in a changing world.

Tropical Health & Society

- ▶ Acquire skills to create a career in health promotion, international health or policy development.
- ▶ Explore the social bases of health and medicine with a special focus on the tropics.
- ▶ Examine the interface of local and global health and social trends.

Social & Criminal Justice

- ▶ Prepare for a career in government, correctional services, community and social justice agencies.
- ▶ Examine social justice issues and systems of social control, such as treatment of prisoners and refugees.
- ▶ Study causes of crime and systems of crime prevention, including corporate crime and crimes against humanity and the environment.

ESSENTIAL RESEARCH SKILLS FOR THE WORKPLACE

- ▶ Design & conduct surveys
- ▶ Interview skills
- ▶ Observational research
- ▶ Ethical research practice
- ▶ Training in data analysis software
- ▶ Report writing skills

SELECT A SECOND MAJOR

Anthropology, Archaeology, Criminology, Environmental Studies, Geography, History, Human Services, Indigenous Australian Studies, Political Science, Psychology, Planning, Sociology.