Majors

ARTS MAJORS

As part of the Bachelor of Arts, you can choose from 12 majors.

Anthropology

Study history, languages, politics, economics and social systems. Understand cultural and ethnic difference and analyse how people's beliefs fit into a wider social, political and economic context.

Archaeology

Develop skills in archaeological investigation and research as a basis for employment in the field in Australia. Expand your knowledge with specialised offerings in evolutionary, forensic, Asian, Australian, and European archaeology.

Criminology

Learn why people are motivated to commit crime, and explore strategies to prevent law-breaking and rehabilitate offenders. This course equips you with skills to help make a difference in your community.

Design and Creative Arts

Amplify your creativity and develop skills for a stimulating career. Contribute to project management in the creative industries. Communicate with others through original works of art. Complement core subjects with a range of specialisations, which vary between campuses.

English

Investigate and explore the riches of literature across the ages. You will develop your understanding of the English language and gain a high level of communication and reasoning skills while growing your passion for reading and writing.

History

Engage with the past to develop skills in critical thinking, research, and communication. Assess evidence physically and online, and refine your ability to communicate ideas in a range of formats including digital projects.

Human Geography

Explore the interrelationship between people and their natural and built environments. Develop specialist skills including urban planning and design, regional sustainability, and social and environmental impact assessment.

Human Services

Study social policy, community planning and development, education and capacity building, organisational practice, and social responsibility. Gain practical skills and experience through field trips and project work.

Indigenous Studies

Expand your understanding of the complex interface between Indigenous and Western knowledge, perspectives, and practices in Australia today. Some subjects include field trips, and one includes an optional international trip to an Indigenous community.

Politics and International Relations

Explore issues such as human rights, ethnic relations, war and conflict, the ongoing legacies of historical events, and politics in the developing world. Learn the skills you need for a career in defence, diplomacy, ethnic affairs, human rights and development, intelligence, and international trade.

Psychology Studies

Explore the history of psychology, the nervous system, memory, intelligence, emotion, personality, and psychological disorders. This major is not accredited. If you want to become a Registered Psychologist, find out more about the Bachelor of Psychological Science. This major is not available at Cairns campus.

Sociology

Develop the analytical tools to learn how society is organised and how we experience life with each other. Study social trends, and understand why and how societies and institutions have developed through history.

BUSINESS MAJORS

As part of the Bachelor of Business, you can choose from three majors.

Human Resources Management

Find out what makes people tick and how you can boost their performance. Learn how to effectively communicate, develop positive employment relations and manage organisational change. Your passion for human resources can take you across industries in Australia and around the world.

Management

Develop the skills to manage finances and resources, and direct business operations in a fast-paced setting. You will learn to manage people and workflow — transferable skills important to running a business or team in any industry.

Marketing for the Digital Age

Get the skills to speak directly to your customers through traditional advertising, digital marketing and social media. Your creativity and understanding of people will help you become an effective marketer, fulfilling the needs of your customers or growing a new customer base.

“I chose this degree so that I would have the opportunity to study a diverse range of topics and have the variety to keep my studies exciting and motivating. I could have the balance of the practicality of business subjects with the exploratory nature of Arts subjects. There’s a Work Integrated Learning program in the business degree that gives you options for workplace-related subjects, such as a professional internship, multidisciplinary project or independent project. I’ve benefited from all my subjects in terms of gaining knowledge, application and problem-solving skills. Make the most of your wide range of subject options. JCU has a lot of awesome subjects available and this degree is a great opportunity to discover what you are truly passionate about.”

Lillian MacGregor

BACHELOR OF ARTS - BACHELOR OF BUSINESS STUDENT

“To meet employer demand for transferrable skills such as communication, teamwork, problem solving and critical thinking, students should consider a joint degree in JCU Business and Arts. Graduates with great communication skills and high emotional intelligence have a better understanding of society, this in turn creates a greater level of trust, engagement and tolerance. In a world of ‘wicked problems’, political and public engagement and of volunteering, a joint degree in Business and Arts gives JCU students an edge to how they solve problems and interact with the wider world.”

Dr Rachel Hay

LECTURER

Career Opportunities

A JCU Arts-Business degree prepares you to work across a variety of occupations and industries, both in Australia and internationally.

Depending on your choice of majors, you could pursue a career in areas such as media and communications, business, community planning and development, human resources or employee relations, research, policy, and more.
