Academic Promotion Procedure

1. Intent and Scope

This procedure outlines the process for all aspects of the Academic Promotion Policy. It applies to academic and doctoral qualified research staff members who are covered by the current James Cook University Enterprise Agreement (the Agreement). It does not apply to casual Academic staff members and short-term academic visitors.

2. Definitions

Leadership is defined as:

- a. internal leadership inclusive of:
 - strategic leadership: setting direction within the University,
 - intellectual leadership: creation of new directions and the construction of leading ideas,
 - innovative leadership: creation of novel concepts along with courageous risk-taking,
 - resource leadership: effective building and management of the University's infrastructure, people and other resources, and
 - sustainable leadership: long-term achievement and succession management.
- b. external leadership: consisting of mutually beneficial partnerships with society outside the University, inclusive of local communities, national collaborations, international collaborations and partnerships with relevant government, industry, professional and other relevant bodies including generation of external income.

Assessor refers to a person appointed by the Panel with recognised expertise in the applicant's discipline, who is willing to comment in an informed basis on the applicant's work. Irrespective of the promotion level, a staff member of the University is not eligible to serve as a Referee or as an Assessor.

3. Criteria

- a. The University recognises and rewards staff members who have demonstrated sustained achievement in the key elements of academic endeavour:
 - Learning and Teaching;
 - Research and Scholarship; and
 - Service and Engagement.
- b. Leadership is considered to be an inherent element embedded throughout the three key elements.
- c. Applicants must, as a minimum requirement, demonstrate that they meet the skill base for the academic level for which they are applying, in accordance with the Academic Work Profiles as published in the current Enterprise Agreement.
- d. The University values equally each of the three key and mutually supportive elements of academic endeavour; Learning & Teaching; Research and Scholarship; and Service and Engagement. It is also recognised that the mix and focus of academic activities will vary between disciplines and according to individual strengths and opportunities as well as the Academic Work Profile of individuals. In preparing the case for promotion, applicants are expected to present a balanced and evidence based case demonstrating achievement relative to opportunity and their particular Academic Work Profile. For example, a research focused academic who does not undertake any teaching activities would be expected to achieve a higher level of research output to a teaching and research academic.
- e. Applicants should quantify their individual contribution to any joint publications, joint teaching, research supervision and/or research projects/consultancies and qualify their role on committees/professional bodies.
- f. Academic staff members can choose to apply for promotion under any one of the three promotion profiles in the table below.
- g. It is expected that applicants for promotion will currently hold an appointment at the previous level to that which they are applying (e.g. applicants for promotion to Academic level E would be currently at Academic level D).
- h. Promotion within a salary scale will not be considered as part of the promotion process.
- i. The promotion of a fixed term staff member does not extend the term of the existing appointment.

Please refer to the following Minimum Promotional Criteria Table and the Key Elements and Performance Levels Table below for selection criteria:
