- This item is relevant to JCU corporate/JCU Australia only (*delete as appropriate) (mandatory key point).

Background and Considerations
“Insert relevant background information (main body of text) that supports the proposed course of action”, e.g., how the issue arose. This may include:

- by whom and when it has previously been considered; what previous resolutions and policy have been formulated; what factors are relevant to the current consideration; what the Council/Board/Committee is required to do; and any relevant minute extract from a previous Committee or meeting.

This section should provide sufficient information for a Council/Board/Committee member with no background knowledge to understand the basis for the material being presented. For example, if a policy is involved – you should explain the need for the introduction of the new policy, or for proposed revisions to an existing policy. This section should also describe the process undertaken to develop or amend the policy. Changes to an existing document should show the amendments as tracked changes.

Considerations should include the reasoning behind the proposal and how it will work. Any other options that have been considered, and reasons for the preferred option, should be included. If there is a relevant University policy or procedure, explain whether the proposal is in accord with it. If the proposal results in a new policy document, it should be included as an attachment.

Indicate if the decision is likely to attract reputational risk such as adverse comment from the media or key stakeholders. If so, what is likely to be the nature of that criticism and what you propose by way of a response or other mitigation? This section should also cover downside risk (the financial risk associated with losses) and not just upside risk (an uncertainty that could have a positive effect) and present options, if applicable.

Resource Implications

Financial: Briefly outline the resource requirements of the proposal and how they will be met, e.g., ‘costs of $xxxx associated with the xxxxx will be xxxx and met from xxxxx’.

Infrastructure: Briefly outline any infrastructure implications or requirements of the proposal, e.g., impact on the estate or IT requirements, and how they will be met.
